1996 Town Meetings:

Andover voters want more information

By ALISON ALOISIO

In a key decision, residents voted overwhelmingly to pursue adding two seats to the Board of Selectmen, as well as hiring an administrative assistant.

But the final decision won't come until a special Town Meeting. In the One thing is certain -- there is no town manager in Andover's immediate future. That option was quickly eliminated, also by an overwhelming vote.

Resident Gerry Schachter, citing a high town manager turnover rate in

But beyond the condo issue, he said, the revaluation would provide a needed "complete new look at the town. It's time to be sure all properties in town are paying their fair share," he said.

The work is expected to be done by Maine Tax Equalization Consultants of Brunswick.

Michael Austin of MTEC was present at the meeting and outlined the revaluation process. He said it would be completed for the 1997

The first articles on the warrant will involve nominations for four Town Office seats, which will be filled through secret ballot.

For selectman, assessor and overseer of the poor, incumbent Howard Gurney will be seeking his third consecutive term. Gurney first served in that capacity from 1960 to 1967. He then moved to Rangeley where he was town manager and selectman from 1968 to 1983. After returning to West Paris he once again was elected selectman in 1990. No one has indicated that they will oppose Gurney.

Smith, who had five sisters and a half-brother, had supported himself since the age of 10 by working for a tarmer in the hayfields.

"I was never afraid to work," he said.

After leaving school, he worked at various construction jobs. In the summer of 1929, he heard there was a circus in Lewiston. "I went to the circus grounds on Sabattus Street. I saw a friend of mine, Al Sargent. He said, "I joined the circus -- why don't you, too?" Smith was game, and the two

PROBLEM IS NOT THE CITIZENS

To the Editor:

I believe a little investigating is warranted by Andover Constable Cayer. The problems with past selectmen's meetings did not involve disruptive citizens. Had Mr. Cayer listened to tapes of the meetings in question I think he would have found that this was the case.

At no time did a member of the audience disrupt the meeting with "inappropriate, offensive, interruptive, or repetitive comments," What is inappropriate and offensive is the manner in which Mr. Madigan and Miss Gaudet have chosen to conduct themselves. While the situation is sad, it does not warrant involvement by the police.

Mr. Cayer's inquity to the DA's office is evidence that he failed to review the tapes of the meetings in question. It is amazing to me that Mr. Cayer is involved in this situation at all. I can't help but wonder if he was not a pawn used to intimidate the citizens of Andover.

Whether or not Mr. Cayer's actions were requested by the selectmen is the guess of anyone. However, it is important that law enforcement agencies do not get involved in town politics, especially a police department that consists of one employee. In dealing with this issue some objectivity was in order.

In my opinion a more appropriate action would have been for Mr. Cayer to suggest a copy of Roberts Rules of Procedure. The idea that a law enforcement agency would be responsible for removing a person exercising their rights as entirens is reminiscent of some prefty awfulperiods in history. I publicly request before any action is taken by an office of the law in this situation that an objective inquiry be made into the situation and thorough review of the U.S. Constitution be made.

Stiffing The Ethics Laws

By MIKE BROWN

What are the sounce out income for Maine Lyns

Who knows? Certainly not the Commission on Governmental Ethics and Election Practices, Anand disclosures of income by legislators to the commission are required by law and these statements are public. However, these reports are treated cavalierly by most legislators because they know that nothing will be done if they leave the report pages nearly blank.

Required reports include name of employers from whom legislators received more than $1,000 (including legislative salary), self-employment income over $1,000, all other sources of income of $1,000 or more, and a listing of creditors for any unsecured loans of $3,000 or more.

Also included are disclosures of gifts of more than $300, any honoraria, and sources only of income received by members of immediate family. Consider that many legislators blatantly don't even report their annual legislative salaries and one can understand the haughtiness problem. And who knows what is omitted for other sources of income, gifts and honoraria? The commission staff has nelther the personnel (3) nor legislative appropriated funds to audit most of these reports and follow up with complaints to the politically appointed commission board which usually dismisses the com-plaints anyway as "oversights," not withstanding that willfully filing a false statement is a Class E crime. It would seem that legislators not even listing their incumbent legislative salaries could be called a willfully false statement.

Here's just one example of why financial disclosures are important. There is presently a bill before legislature which would privatize the liquor industry in Maine. It may have a $300-million impact on the state. Obviously, the liquor lobby is tracking this bill with imperative proprietary interest.

The Distilled Spirits Council of the United Sates (Discus) is the Maine registered lobbyist for the nation's liquor industry. On Aug. 6, 1995, Discus held a dinner and invited House Speaker Dan Gwadosky and Reps. Richard Campbell, Roger Pouliot, John Tuttle and Gerald Boutlard -- and their wives. Also attending the Discus-paid dinner was a staff person from Democrat Speaker Gwadosky's office. Patricia Eltman, who functions more as an unelected D-partisan whip.

The individual dinner tabs were all picked up by Discus and all under the $300 minimum reportable for "gifts" and were not reported by the recipients.

On Oct. 12, 1995, Discus held a "Hotel & Reception/Dinner." Invited were Rep. Susan Dore and her spouse (R.Hark), and Senate President Jeffrey Butland. The "gift" to Rep. Dore was $274.96, and the same amount to her spouse. The amount was not over the $300 minimum for Rep. Dore and not reportable on her financial disclosure report. Her spouse, of course, was not obliged to report any-

However, the amount of the Discus gift to Senate President Butland was $426.16. This sum was found on an addendum letter filed by Discus on its 1995 joint lobbyist/employer annual report. Butland was required to report the gift on his annual financial disclosure statement because it exceeded the $300 minimum. He did not.

The New England director for Discus is Ralph Buchanan Pears of Kennebunkport, He did not return a call to answer questions of where these "hotel reception/dinners" were held and why only the House Speaker, Senate President, five legislative representatives and their spouses, and a Demo-cratic activist staffer were hand-picked to attend the liquor lobby events.

The purpose of financial public disclosures is contained in Maine's governmental ethics law. It is essential "to guard against corruption and integrity for their legislature when its own members do not respect or obey their own laws.

Filmmakers to open production office

BETHEL--"The Myth of Fingerprints" moviemakers expect to open a production office in Bethel sometime this week, according to assistant production coordinator John Marcus. The site is still being negotiated, he said. Filming is scheduled to begin in April. The crew is expected to stay at the Bethel Inn. Marcus also said interns are being sought to help with coordination in the art department. "ER" actor Noah Wyle is scheduled to be in the cast, and negotiations for actors for the other roles in the film are ongoing. The movie's storyline centers on the relationships within a family that comes together for a Thanksgiving reunion.

Safer Families ends services

BETHEL--The Safer Families program will be ending direct program services as of March 6, due to lack of further state and private funding. Board members plan to continue lobbying for legislation to protect victims of domestic violence. The board will also offer support and volunteer to provide educational opportunities in Oxford County schools, and will work with law enforcement agencies and other institutions to ensure that victims receive services and decrease the amount of domestic violence in area communities.

Maine population grows slightly

AUGUSTA--Maine's population grew by 2,000 to 1,241,000 from 1994 to 1995, according to a state Department of Labor publication and the U.S. Census Bureau. The excess of births over deaths more than offset a slight net out-migration (more people leaving than entering the state). Massachusetts recorded the largest population gain in New England, but the lastest-growing states were New Hampshire and Vermont. Rhode Island was one of only two states in the nation to lose population.

Turn on your headlights

AUGUSTA--Maine State Police are reminding motorists to use their low beam headlights when driving during inclement weather. State law requires lights to be on when visibility has been reduced to less than 1,000 leet, according to state police chief Alfred Skolfield, "Recent fog conditions have canced poor visibility and the 1,000-foot threshold occurs during most showstorms as well," he said.

Daughters' Day organizers needed

AUGUSTA--The committee organizing Take Our Daughters to Work Day is seeking individuals, businesses, parents, and schools interested in organizing in their local communities. Scheduled for April 25, the fourth annual event will provide girls ages 9 to 15 the opportunity to spend a day in the workplace of their choice. The day is designed to focus national attention on the needs of girls, and to introduce girls to potential career opportunities. For more information call the Women's Development Intitate of (207) 626–4471.

Mainer dies on Mt. Washington

MT. WASHINGTON, N.H.-An ice climber from Vienna, Maine, fell-several hundred feet to his death Saturday on Mt. Washington's Huntington Rayme. Robert Vandel, 50, an experienced mountaineer, was hiking with three other people when the accident occurred. Vandel had stopped for lunch and unclipped some of his safety equipment when he apparently decided to cross the rayine to another gully. Witnesses said Vandel crossed successfully but slipped just after he reached the other side. He left more than 300 feet and slid another 500 feet. He was the fourth person to die on Mt. Washington this winter.

Wachusett expansion opposed

CONCORD. Mass.—Several regional environmental organizations have vinced to term to oppose the expansion of Wachusett Mountain Ski Area onto public datals. The groups said in a press release that the proposed expansion would cause excessive damage to the ecological integrity of Wachus, it Mountain State Reservation. The organizations say the expansion would threaten a unique grove of old-free growth torest, degrade the quality of mannerpal drinking water supplies, and replace natural forest habitats with artificially-maintained lawns.

Flu drops life expectancy

ATLANTA-I are expectancy tell for the first time in 13 years, based on figures from 1993, but tederal researchers say that doesn't mean a shorter life span is just that it was a touch year because of deaths from flu. The federal Centers for Disease Control said Thursday that life expectancy in 1903 was 25 5 years, down about four months from 75.8 years in 1902. The CDC blamed the decline in life expectancy on two nationwide epidenics in 1903 in which 82.820 people died from flu or pneumonia. Most of those who died were older and weak from other chronic health problems. Provisional 1994 figures indicate a rebound in life expectancy, the CDC said. The decline in life expectancy underscores the need for people in high risk groups, especially the elderly, to get flu shots, a CDC snokesman said.

White Mountain National Forest

Terri Marceron, assistant ranger for the White Mountain National Forest, reminds winter hikers on Mount Washington that the new Lion's Head winter trail offers the safest route to avoid avalanches in the Lion's Head area. The trail is located approximately 50 feet beyond the junction of the Raymond Path and the Huntington Ravine winter snowcat trail. The snowcat trail begins 1.7 miles up the Tuckerman Ravine trail from the Appalachian Mountain Club's Pinkham Notch Visitor Center. The new Lion's Head winter trail joins the Lion's Head trail at tree line; it has orange signs with black letters and is blazed with red reflectors and blue squares.

"We needed to find an alternate route after heavy rains last fall washed out more than 80 feet of the existing trail, creating a new avalanche path across the trail," said Marceron.

Marceron also advised all winter hikers, climbers and skiers to check the latest avalanche and weather information. U.S. Forest Service Snow Rangers issue avalanche bulletins based on snow stability, possibility of avalanches, and safety of backcountry travel on a daily basis from late December through Memorial Day.

To check on current conditions or for more information, contact the Forest Service snow rangers or AMC caretaker in Tuckerman Ravine; the AMC's Pinkham Notch Visitor Center (603-466-2725); or the Androscoggin Ranger Station in Gorham, N.H. (603-466-2713, TTY/FAX: 603-466-2856.

School Tax Assessment Review Group

The School Tax Assessment Review (S.T.A.R.) group met recently to discuss SAD44 budget-related issues.

The LD 880 Minority Report regarding referendum voting is to be heard by the legislators very soon.

The amendment states that the budget can only be voted on three times, "If the budget is not adopted by June 1, a six-member mediation team must be formed subject to rules adopted by the office of Policy and Legal Analysis Draft... Commissioner of the Department of Education,

"The mediation team shall consist of three School Board members, appointed by the School Board, three selectmen appointed by the selectmen of the towns in the SAD and one non-voting facilitator appointed by the commissioner.

"A vote of two-thirds of the mediation team is needed to approve the budget. The budget must be adopted by the beginning of the district school year."

The S.T.A.R. group agrees that the amendment is an improvement over the original. However, it seemed to drag out the decision, as mediation meetings often do.

From the Bethel Police log:

First it's stolen, then it's not

At 11:15 p.m. on March 3 the Rumford Police Department requested that police stop and hold a possible stolen vehicle headed west on Route 2. The officer located the vehicle and stopped it. Rumford then advised the subject driving had permission to use the vehicle, and it was now not stolen. The operator was allowed to go on his way.

Saturday, March 2

At 3:35 p.m. the Oxford County Sheriff's Office requested an officer respond to an accident on Route 2 in Gilead. A vehicle was reportedly still in the westbound lane near the ledges, in a very bad location. The responding deputy was still in West Paris. Police asked to provide emergency lighting to prevent a secondary accident.

Sunday, March 3

At 8:15 a.m. a Walker's Mills Road resident reported that an unknown person had struck a utility box located on his property sometime overnight. No vehicle description was given. Damage was estimated at $1.000, and Oxford West Co. was notified.

At 7:53 p.m. Oxford County dispatch requested that police meet with a subject at the Norseman Inn in reference to a hit-and-run accident that occurred earlier in Newry. Police obtained the necessary information and passed it on to a deputy.

This report highlights points of interest from the Bethel Police Department log, but does not include all reports of police activity. To reach the Bethel Police Department, call 911 in emergency situations, 824-3437 in non-emergencies. An answering machine takes calls when an officer is not in the office.

Upswing in snowmobile accidents leads to new call for caution, common sense

Citing the seventh snowmobile fatality of the winter season, as well as numerous personal injury accidents to snowmobilers over the weekend, Gary Anderson, safety officer for the Maine Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife, is urging snowmobilers to use common sense and avoid alcohol.

In early February a Houlton man was killed on Nickerson Lake in New Limerick when he and his snowmobile struck an ice-fishing shack at what wardens reported to be a "high rate of speed." An autopsy and the accident investigation revealed that the dead snowmobiler was intoxicated and driving at speeds approaching 100 mph.

This season the state is now nearing the point of the greatest number of snowmobiters ever killed in a single year. In 1994 and in 1972, there were eight, including one drowning in each of those seasons. With ice conditions still marginal in some places despite the cold weather, the safety officer fears a tash of through-the-ice incidents that might result in a disastrous year for snowmobile safety in Maine.

Estimates from the five Warden Service divisions put the total number of personal injury snowmobile accidents this winter to well over 100. "We could change these regrettable safety statistics overnight," says Anderson, "if people would simply slow down and not abuse alcohol. These two factors are appealing all too often as the primary contributor to death and injury accidents on snowmobiles," Anderson said.

Fish and Wildlife Commissioner Ray "Bucky" Owen said "Maine has a wonderful trail system, well-organized clubs and a beautiful state in which to enjoy this winter pastime. Sadly, the majority who snowmobile responsibly are being menaced by those who drive too fast for conditions and abuse alcohol."

Department figures indicate the snowmobile registrations over the past three seasons are at the highest levels since the 1970s.

The letter, Dresser said, "took it out of our hands."

Thurston concurred, "It's rare enough you get an unequivocal letter from an attorney," he said.

Henley had also argued against the severance package. In a memo to the board, she said, "if you grant this, every town employee who leaves from now on, no matter what the circumstances, will demand similar compensation.

"In addition," she wrote, Brown's appeal "forced me and you into accruing legal costs as yet untallied ... (and) has taken precious board time and attention away from the issues crucial to the running of this town."

The legal costs associated with the appeal are expected to run between $10,000 and $20,000. Henley said later.

The selectmen noted Monday that a special Town Meeting will probably be needed to authorize them to move the funds to cover the legal expenses.

Two controversial Andover issues remain unresolved

By ALISON ALOISIO

An attempt at Town Meeting to publicly resolve two Andover controversies was cut short when arguing townspeople were gaveled down by the moderator.

Resident Sid Pew has been involved in a dispute with selectman Joe Madigan over a $57,000 state reimbursement to the town for land-

Madigan put the money in the transfer station account after receiving it last summer. He said he had been told specifically by the Department of Environmental Prolection that was where the money belonged. Madigan said the deadline for the town to apply for the reimbursement had passed when he looked into the application process. He said the town would not have received the money at all if he had not pursued it repeatedly with DEP.

Pew maintains the money should have been placed in the general fund, pending a vote by residents.

Former selectman Wayne Delano voiced his support of Pew's posi-tion at Saturday's Town Meeting. He said that while the money was probably spent in the appropriate

But when the two appeared headed for an argument, moderator

Jane Rich cut them short. She had warned voters at the outset of the meeting she would not Dixon's handling of a request for fire protection. The request came from Bradford Brothers Inc. regarding a proposed subdivision on the South Arm Road in Andover North Surplus. Madigan said previous Boards of Selectmen had opposed the development for environmental reasons, and would not provide fire protection.

But in November 1994, Dixon wrote a letter confirming the town would provide protection to a scaled down version of the subdivision if certain stipulations were

The letter payed the way for the subdivision's approval by Oxford County Commissioners and the Land Use Regulatory Commission. Madigan claimed Dixon had improperly entered into a contract because only the selectmen have the tion. We fight like hell up there (at the town office). But (if someone is hired) at least the work will get done," he said.

Ed Witt advocated bringing the selectmen/administrative assistant plan to a special Town Meeting as soon as possible.

Elect, don't appoint

Articles regarding the formal establishment of the fire department ordinance were soundly defeated.

Voters had been asked to choose between two proposals. One would make the fire chief an appointed position, the other would keep it an elected office.

Several people made a case against an appointed chief. Kelly Scotti said overseeing the chief would be just one more thing for selectmen to do. "They have enough duties, and they can't do those. Why give them even more?" she said.

All three current selectmen have been in office a year or less, The proposal to establish an ordinance with an elected chief will be brought back for reconsideration at a later meeting. Some voters objected to wording that appeared to give more power to the chief, as well as an additional $2,000 compensation cost.

Marshall Meisner sounded a similar theme when it came time to decide if the road commissioner should be changed from an elected to an appointed position.

"I can't imagine these people appointing a road commissioner. They can't handle the job they've got now," he said.

Witt had argued that selectmen needed more control over the commissioner because about a third of the town budget goes to roads.

Townspeople also postponed until later a decision on purchasing the Grimaldi property to allow more research. The recreation committee is proposing to build ball fields on the

Another postponed item was a decision on the availability of a demolition material dumpster at the transfer station.

More willing to spend

Voters were in more of a spending mood this year than last. They increased funding for several articles over the amount recommended by selectmen and/or the budget

The biggest addition was $5,000 extra to the professional services account, bringing it to $10,000.

The increase followed discussion of the town's 1994 audit. Former selectman Wayne Delano questioned why the town had not tions by Central Maine Power. received a completed audit for 1994 and 1995.

"Some town meetings have been cancelled because the audit was not done. We haven't had one in two years," he said. Selectmen had engaged William Kelly last spring after being dissatisfied with the work of the previous auditor.

Selectman Joe Madigan said a lot of work had to be done to straighten out financial records.

Delano also wanted to know if Kelly could do the work without being a licensed CPA.

Madigan said the Maine Municipal Association told him Kelly's work would be acceptable if it was stamped by a CPA.

to the town. Selectman plan to hire a CPA to do the 1995 work. At an estimated cost of at least $2,500, townspeople decided to put the extra money into the professional services account.

Other areas seeing more modest increases included the library, social service organizations, the recreation committee and the cemetery fund.

Voters also declined to remove any street lights in town, despite being offered three cost-saving op-

They did go with lower figures in three accounts -- general municipal expenses, building maintenance and the transfer station. The expenses account was approved at $29,000 rather than the recommended $31,000, after it was realized more money than expected from last year had ended up in sur-

Funds for maintaining the town office and garage were each decreased by $500.

The transfer station was funded at the budget committee's $20,000 recommendation, rather than the selectmen's $25,000 figure.

Voters also approved $4,000 to do a cost analysis of withdrawing from SAD44. Though no one spoke in fa-Kelly turned his $1,500 fee back vor of actual withdrawal, the sentiment of those in favor was that the town should "get an answer once and for all" on the issue, in the words of Brian Mills.

Townspeople also approved an ordinance providing for the recall of elected town officials, as well as an update of records of town ordinances and policies.

Calculations on the final total municipal budget are not yet completed. The proposed budget was $319,000, down from last year's tax year. Austin told townspeople that changes in valuation generally follow a pattern of one-third of the properties going up, one-third going down, and one-third staying the

The revaluation was approved with only a few opposed.

The addition to the Bear River Fire Station was approved with very lattle discussion. The larger station will allow a pumper truck to be kept on that side of town. Currently, the larger trucks must be parked in the Sunday River Sta-

Voters also approved the renewal a M-year contract with Med-Care Ambulance of Rumford, to run from July, 1998 to July, 2008.

Selectman Bill Wight said the cost of Med-Care is significantly lower than PACE, which serves the ski resort.

He said the town could get out of the contract by notifying Med-Care 18 months in advance.

Wight also said patients would not be restricted to being transported to Rumford Community Hospital.

An E-911 ordinance, intended to establish physical addresses for all structures in town, was also approved. The addresses will make it easier for emergency service persomel to locate people on an emergency call.

Townspeople also appropriated $10,000 to build a five-foot wide bike lane from the ball field on the Sunday River Road to the end of the Monkey Brook Road.

The work would be part of road improvements to be made by Sunday River Ski Resort in conjunction with the construction of the Jordan Bowl Access Road.

Steve Wight said he hoped the lane could eventually be extended in the other direction to Route 2. Other routine money items were approved with little change from previous years.

Selectmen terms staggered Voters also approved a change in the structure for electing selectmen. Until this year, all three seats were up for election every year. The terms will now be staggered, with one selectman elected each year to a three-year term. The three incumbent selectmen were reelected, with the initial terms set up as follows: Wendy Hanscom, three-year term; Steve Wight, two-year term; Bill Wight, one-year term. David Langlois and Debbie Gilbert were reelected to two- and three-year terms, respectively, on the School Board. About 70 people attended the

Both budget proposals, however, are less than the $364,590 proposed for 1995. The selectmen's figure is down by $24,997, or about 7 percent; the Budget Committee figure is down $10,709 or approximately 3

There are five major issues other than elections and budget to be considered out of the 76-article warrant. These include a vote to change the term of office for the road com-

West Paris usually sees an attendance figure at its annual town meeting in excess of 150 residents. a figure that tends to vary depending on weather conditions, but many people seem to feel that the morning time slot may very well draw one of the largest crowds ever.

I was pleased to read an article in the Maine Sunday Telegram paper, from the book "Maine is Forever" by Ineze Farrington, about Maine's winters. This was submitted by Rep. Herb Adams of Portland. Ineze lived by Lake Keewaydin in East Stoneham many years ago and authored several books. vernal sounds, the chatter of brooks after long weeks of ice-bound silence. The flowing waters, the brooks that rouse after the long sleep of winter and come tumbling down the hills and across the meadows bring talk of springtime.

Something about the sound of a brook in March brings a reminder that the earth has its own springtime and lifts its voice in exaltation. It certainly preceded the first singing bird, though it was the birds that brought that sound of exaltation to a chorus of jubilation. And that was the great springtime, the earth awakening.

But even then there was the sound of the brooks in the background, the chortle and chatter of live water. There it is now, a voice of change, an overture to spring. Another week, another weather change -- rain, sun, snow and melt. The channel opened in a couple of

The ladies of West Paris Grange are already making plans for their May 11 craft fair. Many of the particulars will be the same as at their fall fair. This will be a craft, food and white elephant sale and anyone wishing to show their wares at this should call Peggy Blake at 674-3872 or Mary Lovejoy at 674-2147 to reserve the tables needed. The price will still be $3 each.

Alton Lovejoy was a supper guest at the Lovejoy home on Wednesday evening. Mary's son Franklin arrived from Massachusetts and had supper with them. Also that day, Mary got a telephone call from Mark, a young boy that lived with the Lovejoy family for some time. Mark was then adopted and now lives in Durham with his new parents. for a while not long ago. Last Monday evening we attended the potluck supper and meeting of Franklin Grange in Bryant Pond. Several visitors from other granges joined us, and we had a real good supper and enjoyed the meeting that followed. This was the night of the Valentine Party and I think everyone had a good time.

We didn't go anywhere or do much exciting on Tuesday, but one thing that I did accomplish was getting an order ready to go to Jung's Seed Company, where Fordered one of their small Have-A-Heart traps with hopes of catching some of the versity of Maine women's basketred squirrels around here and taking > Thursday afternoon was rather a sad time for us. We attended the funeral for Helen Williams Strout at the funeral home on Main Street in Norway, Helen lived with our sister Viva and family for many years, as did her two younger brothers, James and Harry. She seemed like a member of our family and she thought of us as aunt and uncle. We will certainly miss here very much. There was a large attendance at her funeral. The seating room was all filled and several people had to stand during the service.

I had been planning to buy some boards and make a new set of shelves for my bedroom, and with the mild weather I decided to do that Friday morning. Peggy went as my chauffeur, and with the old pick-up we headed down street. We went to Aubuchon Hardware Store in Norway first to see about repairs for our leaking humidifier but learned 1'd have to send to the company headquarters to get the parts needed. Yesterday, Peggy cooked a dinner that could be easily transported, then we took it and went to the home of Mary Smith on Route 26, After we had all had our fill, Peggy and I washed the dirty dinner dishes, then the three of us visited as we played the card game, Kings in the Corners. The 2nd Western Maine Snowshoe Challenge will be held on Sunday, March 17, at 10 a.m. at the Sunday River Cross Country Ski Center in Newry.

The course has been structured to accommodate participants of all ages and abilities, with distances ranging from 3 km to 10 km. This family-oriented event will begin with a mass start following a course over the groomed sections of the cross-country ski trails, through woods and fields with a few fun obstacles added for interest.

The $15 registration fee includes trail fees, refreshments, a grab bag of products from all participating sponsors as well as a commemorative mug for each of the first 75 registrants. Awards will be presented only to participants in the 10-km event in the following age categories: 19 years and under, 20-29 years. 30-39 years, 40-49 years and 50 years and over. For those wishing to just join in the fun, a $7 entry fee will be required to cover trail tees only, no lawards or prizes. Proregistration is encouraged. Registra-tion on March 17 will be held between 9 and 9:45 a.m. at the Cross Country Ski Center Lodge, Rebtals can be obtained at most crosscountry ski centers and a ten of the local ski ships.

The event is being sponsored in pair by Bethel Family Dennstry and the Sunday River Cross Country Ske Center All proceeds from this benefit will for to help the Matteesuc Acts Council bring art-HARN GEFEL BEST TE HETERLIEDEN EIN BEFELDEN MUTERHARM and communities in the SAMA

AES OUTREACH-Andover Elementary fourth-, fifth- and sixth-grade students and teachers participated in a three-day Outreach Program in February put on by the Kieve Leadership Decisions Institute. The goal for the students, set by staff, was to help children develop the ability to make responsible, healthy decisions in order to meet the challenges they will encounter as adolescents and adults. This goal was met by engaging the students in a wide variety of activities centered around the following major areas: communication, interpersonal skills, relationships, and adventure trust. The Kieve team held a meeting with staff members at the close of each day and invited parents students and staff to an activity-based evening gettogether during the week. This Outreach Program was sponsored by the Western Regional Partnership with assistance from Boise Cascade Pictured here in the trust-fall activity are fifth- and sixthgraders: Ann Marie Kneeland, Craig Angevine, and Christina Downs.

February vacation is over, and everyone is glad to be back in school, Our Maine Studies

Week before vacation was very successful. We send our thanks to all who participated in any way. All classes are writing personal thankyou notes to the people who presented them.

Our regular classroom activities are in full swing. The kindergarten class has started reading, and the letter groups that they are working on are R and S. In science they are learning about their senses. They have learned that eyes and ears are important and that the brain is the most important part because it controls everything. They watched a T.V. program without sound and realized that they were glad they could hear. Next they will be baking bread to use their sense of smell and taste.

The first-graders are starting their new reading books and are wrapping up their unit on dental health. In math they are weighing and measuring and getting ready for the 100thday-of school celebration.

The second-graders are welcoming Tricia LeBroke to their class. Tricia was here for Maine Studies Week. and was plad that she didn't miss out on those activities. The focus in math for the next couple of weeks is subtraction problems up to 18. They will be working with hands-onmaterial, problem solving and number lines. They work with partners in all areas. The next letter to their pen pais in Hebron will include an informational section on their чен сырк. Ап.

The third-grade Super Brains are working on character descriptions as the form of this week's writing. ### NOVA/REGION 9 STUDENT SERVICES

High school students from Dirigo High School, Mt. Valley High School and Telstar Regional High School are working with NOVA/Region 9 student services coordinator Dan Hart in providing transition activities for area eighth-graders for the third consecutive year.

As part of Hart's monthly visits and career awareness programming at the five area middle schools, the "Transition to High School" panel is one of the most requested activities. Recently, eighth-graders from St. Athanasius and St. John, Peru Elementary School, and Telstar Middle School were visited by Hart, and a panel of NOVA/Region 9 students, and other high school students. The student panel varies in composition of 8-12 students, representing grades

The high school students share their version of a typical school day at the high school level, as well as a typical day at their NOVA/Region 9 program, noting that many out-of-the-classroom activities they are involved in such as athletics, Yearbook Committee, Student Government, and work part-time after school. Many of the students also take course electives in either Family Life Sciences, Music/Art, Drafting, and Auto Technology, or taking a NOVA/Region 9 program. The high school panelists also note how important a positive attitude is with teachers and peers, doing homework promptly and consistently, and how achieving good grades durme the freshman year establishes a solid foundation in high school.

Telstar Guidance Department

During the week of March 11, over 150 Telstar junior and senior students will be excused from school to participate in the annual Career Exploration Week program. This unique program enables students to contact, coordinate and job shadow or work with employers of the SAD44 school district, Oxford County and work sites throughout Maine, New England, and the rest of the country.

At the completion of Career Exploration Week, many students will have discovered what careers are most interesting to them. Other students will have changed their minds and career goals. Some students will have established summer jobs, while others, having enhanced their decision-making skills, will pursue careers via college, vocational, business schools or mili-

In the past few weeks students have been contacting businesses to arrange their career exploration experiences.

A final project based on the students' Career Exploration Week experiences will be required of all students in order to receive credit. The "Ten Best Career Week Projects" will be selected and announced by early April. SAD44 and the Telstar Regional High School staff and guidance office are grateful for area employers, businesses and individuals who take the time, interest and patience to help high school students make better informed career decisions.

PAUL TO REPRESENT MAINE IN X-C CHAMPIONSHIPS_

Ninth-grader Sarah Paul, daughter of Eric Paul of Bethel and Karen Jordan Paul of Bethel, has qualified to race for Team Maine in the 1996 New England JII Cross Country Ski Championships, Sarah was one of 39 boys and girls ages 14 and 15 to have been selected by Team Maine at the Sassi Memorial Race in Rumford.

A high honors students at Gould Academy, Paul began cross-country ski racing for the first time this winter. Though it surprised Paul that she was named to the team, Gould's assistant nordic coach Scott Jerome was confident in her ability to qualify. "Sarah is the type of kid who improves exponentially in cross-country skiing," he said. "She has some natural talent, but more importantly, she is determined to improve."

One other JII skier from Gould will ski for Maine, sophomore Lindsey Molyneux of Worthington, Mass. Molyneux was fourth overall in the three kilometer qualifying event, and first among 14 and 15 year olds. Paul, Molyneux and their teammates will compete against teams from Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Vermont, March 8-10 at Sugarloaf/USA.

GILLIES TOP SCORER

In the New England Prep School All-star girls' basketball game held at Lawrence Academy in Groton, Mass, Sunday, Feb. 25, Hebron Academy senior Alex Gillies helped the East Team beat the West, 57-39.

Each girl played nine minutes. Gillies was high scorer for the game with 13 points, all scored within a six-minute span. She had 12 rebounds and two blocked shots.

During the season, Gillies averaged 18 points and 15 rebounds as well as six block shots per game. A high-honors student, Alexandra Gillies is the daughter of Mary and Gordon Gillies of Hebron.

She is also a member of the Cum Laude Society and in 1995 a recipient of the Maine Scholars Achievement Award besides garnering MVP awards for basketball and lacrosse,
